EM Totally Hyper-Cross-Indexed All Treatments Node

Version 1.2.1

Gregor Tranquil

Foreword by the Editor

I'm a particularly tenacious researcher, and I enjoy exhaustively teasing-out every morsel of a keyword search. Connecting these dots in regards to Fu Xi Wen, Spirit Branch, and EM can be a bit daunting. The task is growing exponentially everyday with Ethan and the EM Community adding new discoveries, and branches to established knowledge.

So this volume serves my appetites to have it all a mouse-click away, regardless if I'm exploring a tantalizing thread uncovered by EM Conversation, or if I'm seeking a quick refresher in applying a treatment. “Where did I see that?”

Once “Complete” a person will access an index that exposes all of Ethan's published content, both hard copy and digital.

Looking ahead, once videos are transcribed, and indexed, those too will be keyword available via this work.

Today, however, at Version 1.2.1 you have the Circulation chapter of the Treatment Guide, most of the New Treatments digital content (with hyperlinks directly to the specific entry—Ethan added more Treatments in late December 2015, which require indexing.), and limited hyperlinked connections to entry-specific terms within the Pathogen Wiki. This is to give you an indication of what is to come, and should provide you, Gentle Reader, an opportunity to make an informed decision if explorations of subsequent editions will support your EM Practice.

The only difference between 1.2.0 and 1.2.1 is the New EM School URLs. Once all of the original content migrated there, this update became necessary to provide E.T.H.A.N. link continuity for The New Treatments and The Pathogen Wiki hyperlinks.

Printing this document at this stage will level entire forests repeatedly, but downloading it to your local machine will allow you to update as needed.

I'm having a lot of fun with this. I trust you'll find it helpful in your journey, too.

Next to the Ye Olde Woode Stove on a crispy cool spring morning,

Gregor

Standard Conventions Utilized

A header at the top of each page provides a key to the short code for each target resource. This holds true regardless if digital or print. Digital targets are active hyperlinks to the web entries.

The Index also has internal hyperlinks to the alphabetical listings within the Index. All of this navigation capacity is within each header.
